An open game turned in favour of the Crows around the 30-minute mark when Callum McKenzie curled in a first time shot after a poorly cleared corner kick.

After YM hit the crossbar, Cwmbrân won a free kick in their own half and took it quickly. Rob Fowler was released down the right, and he drew home keeper Wesson before squaring for Marlon Kabi to slide home. The same combination conjured up the third goal just before half time, a defensive mistake letting in Kabi to score the third.

The Crows dominated the second half and the fourth goal came in spectacular fashion. Richard Lane picked the ball up around the halfway line and surged forward into the YM half. After holding off a challenge he smashed a shot towards the YM goal from about 35 yards. The ball dipped just under the bar to leave Wesson bewildered.

Rob Fowler subsequently opened his account for the season, drilling a low shot through a crowded area after YM had blocked several chances in a row. Callum McKenzie rounded off the scoring with his second goal: a right foot strike bent into the top corner from outside the area.
